

Urja Parmar Student Teacher

Music has always been something that I've loved. In 2018 when I was 10, I was out with my parents and I saw a piano shop across the street. I begged them to take me there and before I knew it, I fell in love with playing the piano! I enrolled in the Phoenix Feather Kids and Keyboard Program later that year.

When I first started the class, I enjoyed playing the songs on the piano and I couldn't believe that one instrument could make such beautiful music. I loved learning about music theory and learning why music sounds the way it does.

As the class progressed into more complicated songs, I had a hard time trying to practice consistently and I struggled with keeping up. After taking a step back I realized I needed a more consistent practice schedule and I needed to apply the music theory I learned into my music. Using these new skills, I thrived and I graduated the Purple Book in 2023.

My love for music has continued to grow to this day. I am currently taking private lessons with Mr. Mark, where I extend my knowledge of music theory and play a mix of classical songs and modern pieces. When I'm not playing piano, I love to volunteer and give back to my community, and I also dedicate my time to being part of the student leadership (ASB) of my high school. I am so excited to help students grow as musicians and I want them to experience music the way I do!

